

Subject: Re: Review paper and follow up
From: Fred Gould <fgould@ncsu.edu>
Date: 7/26/2017 10:11 AM
To: Hector Quemada <hquemada@danforthcenter.org>

Thanks for keeping me in the loop. I'm glad to hear that they are going to get something in print!

On Jul 26, 2017, at 10:03 AM, Hector Quemada <hquemada@danforthcenter.org> wrote:

Fred,

Just as an update on this matter: it looks like Target Malaria has indeed gone ahead to write something. Hopefully it will be published soon.

Hector

----- Forwarded message -----

From: Hector Quemada <hquemada@danforthcenter.org>
Date: Thu, Jul 13, 2017 at 5:31 AM
Subject: Review paper and follow up
To: "fred_gould@ncsu.edu" <fred_gould@ncsu.edu>

Hi Fred,

Just wanted to let you know that Target Malaria has compiled a lot of the literature on the ecological role of Anopheles gambiae. I have been pushing them for a couple of years now to write a review, but I couldn't get anybody interested because it wasn't an original research paper. Do you have any suggestions for how we might get a review written?

I did write Scott Shore an email to let him know you were asking for a response to your e-mail.

Good to see you again at the meeting!

--

Hector