Hi Fred,

Just wanted to let you know that Target Malaria has compiled a lot of the literature on the ecological role of Anopheles gambiae. I have been pushing them for a couple of years now to write a review, but I couldn't get anybody interested because it wasn't an original research paper. Do you have any suggestions for how we might get a review written?

I did write Scott Shore an email to let him know you were asking for a response to your e-mail.

Good to see you again at the meeting!
